

HOW IT WORKS

It is simple..

1. Complete the application
 2. Get your flight school to complete their section
 3. Submit to Virginia Department of Aviation
 4. Become selected for the scholarship and return the scholarship agreement letter
 5. Submit proof of completion of FAA Written Exam and/or flight hours
 6. Provide receipts from flight school and Commonwealth W9
 7. Receive a reimbursement check
- For private pilot licenses or certified flight instructor endorsements only
 - May be used once for a Private Pilot's License and once for a CFI endorsement
 - Must be used at a Virginia flight school
 - Must have a current FAA Medical Certificate

Reimbursement may only be for instruction done after being accepted into the program

BACKGROUND

The Chad Weaver Aviation Scholarship Program is dedicated to a friend and colleague of all those who call airports home.

Born in Virginia, Chad was a lifelong lover of aviation who earned his pilot's license while working as an engineer for an industrial factory in Oklahoma. Chad moved back to Virginia and, after a year working for the Virginia Department of Transportation, he became a member of the Airport Services Division at the Virginia Department of Aviation.

Over the course of his life, Chad owned several aircraft, but was best known for his yellow Acro Sport II that was hangared at New Kent County Airport (W96).

Chad was an avid restorer of vintage American cars, an aviation photographer and an alumnus of North Carolina State University (NCSU).

Chad enjoyed teaching youth and adults about aviation and this scholarship program is designed to help do that in his honor.
